History: On the first Palm Sunday, Jesus' arrival into Jerusalem was celebrated by the townspeople; He was hailed with palm fronds by the crowd. This occurred only a few days before His crucifixion.

Today: The Palm Cross is a traditional symbol used by Christians during the Easter Season (usually on Palm Sunday). It is customary to see them at gravesites; they are also used in gardens and lawns. Many Churches will keep the palms for a year, and burn them for the ashes on Ash Wednesday.
